

architecture+

McCarty Community Residence, Addictions Care Center of Albany, Inc.

Albany, New York

Addictions Care Center of Albany, Inc. (ACCA) provide an Outpatient Clinic offering individual and group treatment through a wide range of New York State OASAS certified clinical services as well as Community Residence Programs for men, women, and families throughout New York's Capital Region. architecture+ designed a new two-story 20-bed Community Residence for women and children in the beginning stages of recovery on the main campus in Albany.

The first floor includes a reception area, administrative areas, visitation room, medication room, and staff offices as well as shared resident spaces for dining and socializing. Residential areas are located on the second floor.